BOWENITE

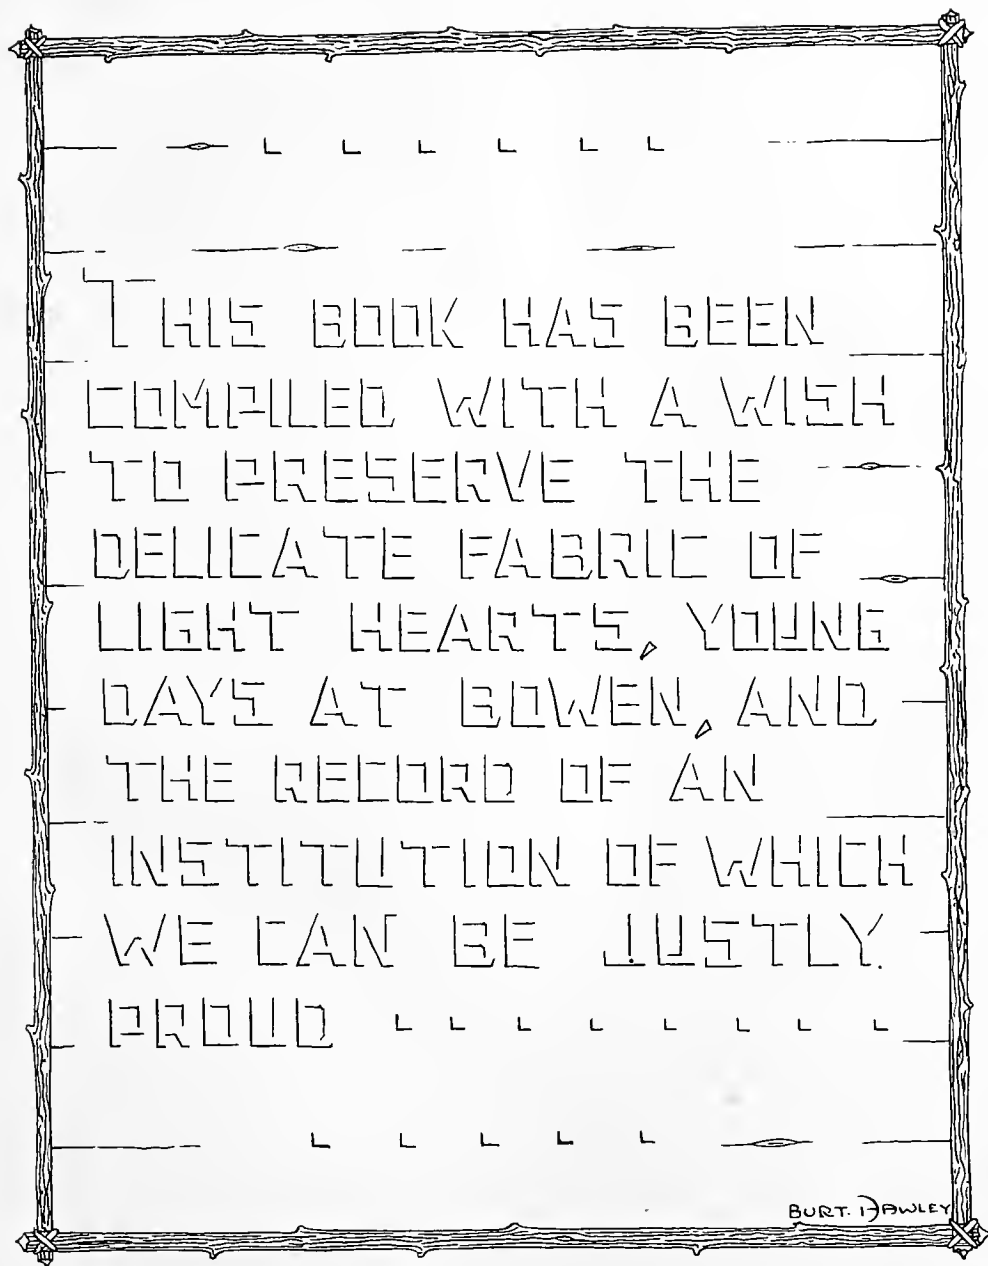

PRESENTED BY THE
JUNE CLASS

OF 1931

JAMES H. BOWEN
HIGH SCHOOL
CHICAGO, ILL.

BURT. HAWLEY

To one of the finest pioneers in the development of education, Mr. Stahl, our principal and friend, we, the June class of nineteen hundred and thirty-one, with deepest appreciation of his guidance and kind understanding, do respectfully dedicate this publication.

MR. STAHL by RICHARD CHASE

My Story

It is difficult for me to write this article because it is perform in the nature of a swan song, and that it is a song which up to a few years ago I hoped I never should be called upon to sing. It had always been my wish to continue my life work as long as I was able to render efficient service. Perhaps that time has come now; that is for others to say. At any rate, when the end of June rolls around it will bring "the last days of school" for me after something more than fifty years of service. At the age of seventeen in a rural school "back in Indiany" I made my first venture with an intellectual equipment in the way of preparation that would not take a young man very far these days. In those days all that was necessary was that a candidate for a teaching position in the country have enough "book larnin" to pass the examination set by the state, and enough physical prowess to maintain his supremacy when the "big boys" came in from the farm after the fall work was done. There were many interesting sessions when they decided to, in modern language, take teacher for a ride. Fortunately for me, pethaps, my first term was a summer term attended for the most part by pupils too young to be of much use on the farm. This gave me time to get my bearings and prepare for the more strenuous days of winter. As I look back I can see that these rural schools of the seventies and eighties were a marvelous training school.

At the end of June I will finish forty-four years in the Chicago schools, twenty-five of which were spent in South Chicago. I began in the Ray School, a one-room school, in fact a rural school, situated at about 124th Street and the Calumet River, and served successively in the John L. Marsh, then at 101st Street and Escanaba, the Cummings at 108th and Hoxie, and the Taylor, at 100th Street and Avenue H which ends my first South Chicago period. I was transferred to the Francis E. Willard at 49th Street and St. Lawrence, then to the John Worthy, which was then an adjunct of the Bridewell, then to the Mosely at 24th and Michigan, back to the John Worthy, and from there to the Gary at 30th and Ridgeway. From there in 1918 I came to Bowen to round out my teaching experience in thirteen most happy years. I have loved South Chicago and its people from the first day I set foot on its confines. I love Bowen High School and leave it with regret. I wish I could properly set forth my feelings as I look back over this more than half century in the public schools. I see a long line of splendid boys and girls maturing into men and women of which any community may be proud; I see noble fathers and mothers sacrificing that their children may have better prospect in life through education than they had; I hear expressions of thankfulness for some act rendered, for some word spoken that helped over the hard places; these are some of the compensations in the life of the school master. And now I lay down my rod with the deepest feeling of appreciation and thankfulness for the loyalty and support of the teachers and pupils and parents all along the line and especially to the teachers and students and parents of Bowen.

The Unveiling

On January 28, 1931 in the auditorium of the James H. Bowen High School, Bowen alumni, teachers, and guests paused to honor Mr. Stahl at the unveiling of his portrait.

The school was transformed into a bower of plants and flowers. Youth was present in gay attire to pay its tribute to this man, their friend.

The portrait which is the work of Richard A. Chase was unveiled by Miss Marguerite Le Master, vice president of the class February, 1931, and Miss Alice Lacke, vice-president of the class of June, 1931.

The program presented was:

Selections .....	Girls' Glee Club
Director, Miss Lillian Stromberg
How It All Came About .....	Ross Whitney, June, '29
The Wielder of the Brush .....	George Benjamin, Feb., '30
The Man We Honor .....	John Barnes, June, '30
The Presentation .....	Charles Smith, Feb., '31
Unveiling of Portrait .....	Alice Lacke, Marguerite Le Master
The Acceptance .....	Stanley Bell, June, '31
Selections .....	Alumni Melody Boys
Director, Mrs. E. B. Beardsley

The library, beautifully decorated, served as the reception room where the committee received the guests.

A few excerpts from Ross Whitney's speech will explain the progress of this great undertaking.

"We were leaving school and leaving behind us Bowen and Mr. Stahl. We felt that both had been an influence for good in our lives, and we wanted somehow to express this. We always knew what a wonderful man he was, but we had not realized until we were graduating what he had done for us, what he had been in our lives, and what he had done for the school. Only naturally, then, we wanted to show our appreciation to Mr. Stahl, and to the classes following after us.

"We wanted something fitting and permanent, and a portrait of Mr. Stahl seemed ideal, for, how better could his presence always be with Bowen than a picture that would always be here. However, this was too large a proposition for just one class to swing. After thinking it over, we started the ball rolling by leaving a sum of money as a portrait fund. Classes after ours had the privilege of contributing to the fund if they felt the same way. This all necessitated leaving the furtherance of the project in the hands of several faculty sponsors. You know classes may come, and classes may go, but the faculty goes on forever.

"It was gratifying when the next class, that of George Benjamin's, contributed, bringing the fund closer to its culmination. The next class, under the leadership of John Barnes, kept the ball rolling by voting more money to the growing fund for the portrait.

"However, at this time our progress was held up by a serious stumbling block. The overcoming of this obstacle was one about which nobody dared to think. Happily for us, everything turned out all right and Mr. Stahl recovered.

"After this, Charles Smith kept pushing the ball. When his class had contributed a sum of money, he found he needed guidance to choose an artist, among other things. There was chosen a faculty and a student committee.

"These people were directly responsible for the successful completion of this occasion. If they had not been filled with a love and loyalty for Mr. Stahl, if they had not been eager to serve, this great project would not have been accomplished. One thing they had to do was to choose an artist. Richard A. Chase, a renowned painter and graduate of the Art Institute of Chicago, was chosen by the Committee after careful consideration.

"This picture represents the fruition of a dream which has been realized so soon because of the splendid spirit and co-operation of everyone. The alumni and the present Senior classes started and carried out this project, but the faculty have given their steady guidance and support. What was started as a desire to show loyalty and love for Mr. Stahl by the June class of 1929 has ended in a mighty tribute to a mighty man."

Mr. Turton's Story

In the year 1894 there came to Bowen one of our well-known teachers, Mr. Charles M. Turton. His first years of teaching were spent in the old building, whose faculty consisted of seven teachers, and a student body of one hundred and fifty pupils.

To prepare himself for this position he attended Onondaga Academy at New York, where he was taught Greek, Latin, and mathematics, the only subjects offered to high school pupils at that time. The classes were composed of two or three students, and Mr. Turton laughed as he compared the number of recitations in his day to the number of this day. "Pupils recited about three or four times a day, while now-a-days they are doing well to recite twice a week. High schools give more general education than the colleges did in those days; and therefore the young men and women are more equipped to go out into the world today," were his friendly words.

He then went on to say that he entered Syracuse University where he took the Classical course consisting solely of Greek and Latin, and was graduated in 1883, receiving the A. M. and A. B. degrees. After that he attended Harvard University where he specialized in physics.

After these years of training he was ready to begin his career as a teacher of physics and chemistry. His first fourteen years at Bowen proved very successful because of the interest of the students. "I didn't have to 'flunk' anyone then," he said, as he laughed and thought of the numerous failures now. His classes were composed of from seventeen to twenty-two pupils, and they gradually increased to twenty-eight pupils, until three or four years ago when his classes increased to their present number.

"Students were only required to carry three solids and two liquids," he said, "and it seems to me that the former policy was better than the present one, for I find that pupils today have less time to spend on their too numerous subjects, due to their outside activities and many good times."

Mr. Turton has not always spent his time teaching in the science room, for before he came to the new building he was a member of the Board of Control and had charge of the athletics. Girls were interested in all forms of play in those days too, and he had charge of two boys' and three girls' basketball teams which proved good enough to play in competitive matches with Fenger, Calumet, Medill, and the University High.

"There is a little advice I would like to give to the students," he said and smiled, because he must have known this was expected of him, "and that is to spend more time on their studies." Mr. Turton expressed his regret at leaving Bowen and said he had enjoyed watching the change in the students in the passing of time.

This might be a proper time to express the feelings of the Bowen students at the loss of this teacher of Bowen who is so well liked by everyone with whom he comes in contact. Students of Bowen have learned to appreciate this man and there will always be a place in the hearts of Bowenites for him.

Last Will and Testament

We, the members of the June Class of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, of the James Harvey Bowen High School, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, declare, and publish this, our Last Will and Testament.

First: To the Freshmen of the aforementioned school we give, devise, and bequeath our love for and knowledge of the manifold mysteries of that institute.

Second: To the Sophomores of the aforesaid school we give, devise, and bequeath the power to "razz" the Freshmen, and, in addition, the recently completed ball room and basement.

Third: To the Juniors we give, devise, and bequeath our Senior Dignity, also our old lockers, book-reports, good marks, and worn-out excuses.

Fourth: To the 4B's we give, devise, and bequeath our various Senior Privileges, namely: Our first floor lockers, the BOWENITE room, our drags with the Senior teachers, and membership in the Tau Pi Alpha.

Fifth: To the various individuals of Bowen High School we give, devise, and bequeath the following characteristics, habits, manners, articles, abilities, and winning ways, of which they may be in great need:

Bernard Adomeit, his old brown sweater to Carl Bledsoe.

Ernette Anderson, her quiet ways to Dick McLaughlin.

Gladys Anderson, her blond hair to Brenda Boyce.

Jeanette Anderson, her brilliancy to anyone with a surplus of D's.

Walter Andrews, his numerous infatuations to Merrill Smith.

Theodore Bagrowski, his oratorical ability to Joe Weinberg.

Clara Balczikonis, her identity to anyone who might have been mistaken.

Frances Barth, her "gift of gab" to Adele Hoskins.

Bernard Basile, his "ringers" to Saul Gordon.

Alfred Bayes, his blushes to Rae MacDonald.

Geraldine Beach, her calmness to all "scatter-brain Freshmen.

Harry Beckwith, all his old photographs to the future Photography Editor, William Harris.

Dorothy Beebe, her "giggle" to Selma Shoemaker.

Stanley Bell, his gavel and duties to Bill Haarlow.

Helen Berglund, her old Spanish books to the ex-Royal Family.

Elizabeth Beringer, her lipstick to Edith Watte.

David Bernstein, his seat in the lunch-room to Aldona Mausner.

Jenny Biernat, her good behavior to Helen Zink.

Elsiegay Black, her dignity to Chere Henshaw.

Thomas Blair, his "wise-cracks" to the "Target."

Helen Brunski, her seat in Chemistry to Joe Sylvester.

Edward Berger, his suede jacket to Manuel Stillerman.

Al Burns, his patent-leather hair to Eleanor Porter.

Vincent Butoric, his locker to Dorothy Rosekrans.
Winifred Butrick, her numerous history topics to Helen Gower.

Evelyn Buza, her soft voice to Jack Adlam.

Sara Campbell, her shortness to Eleanor Wesenberg.

Wentling Capellman, his persistence to Bob Rainy.

4A-4B PARTY

The 4B Class

The February Class of 1932 was organized early in March, 1931 and the following officers were elected:

William Haarlow .....	President
Florence Pedley .....	Vice-President
Helen Palmquist .....	Secretary
Jack Butridge .....	Treasurer
Laurence Larson .....	Editor-in-Chief

In spite of the smallness of the February class a great deal of school spirit has been shown by both the officers and students in general.

Their recent 4B "Get-Together" dinner proved to be a great success.

With Laurence Larson as Editor-in-Chief, a Bowenite of the highest calibre is to be expected.

The main committees and chairmen are:

Catherine Robinson .....	Commencement
Ted Toll .....	Prom
Norma Bailey .....	4B Get-Together Party
Tobey Harrison .....	Flowers and Colors
Margaret Kaub .....	Mottos
Marie Coleman .....	Publicity
Margaret Secor .....	Posters
Marian Gentz .....	Pin and Ring
Rae Macdonald .....	Financial

Division 203

Room 203's (202 since the print shop addition) most notable accomplishment perhaps, was winning the Lindbergh bust by securing a record number of P. T. A. memberships. A battle royal was waged with Miss Lynch's division for the prize, but 203 came up on top.

Mrs. Beardsley's division has contributed more to the Arrow than any other freshman division. They have also led in Bowen Arrow sales several times and as a result have acquired enviable reputations.

The Sans Souci Dramatics Club was formed recently and their first play, "Quack Quack," was so successful that the Go-Getters invited the club to give it as the main feature of an assembly. It went over as a big hit.

The members of 203 were 100% Go-Getters during their first school semester, and when the second semester dues rolled around, they succeeded in getting the Go-Getters to reduce the dues after the initial fee.

Miss Hagen's plea for the needy did not go unheeded in this star division. Three Christmas baskets were produced and at the end of the semester a surplus of over two dollars was found in the Lend-a-Hand Fund.

This hustling division is not adverse to keeping clean. They were 100% in Soap & Towel collections, shaming upper class divisions into paying their own dues.

They do not lack in scholarship either. Eight of their number graced the honor roll at one time, and Mrs. Beardsley's division is almost always on top there.

The hall guard captains see a great deal of these hustling freshmen since over 50% of the room are hall guards.

Not to be outdone in sports, a basketball team was picked and fought its way to the bantamweight championship of the first year students.

The Deans' Council

The Deans' Council, performing splendid service for the school in its third semester of organization is composed of all students who work in activities sponsored by the Deans, Mrs. Wall and Mr. Gelling. Each member must be passing in all subjects.

Some of the most important activities are: Guarding of halls, collection of Red Cross money and attendance at all monthly meetings, selling of locks for the lockers, supervision of wash-rooms, listing and supervising student automobiles, charge of all costumes and make-up in stock-room, and operation and care of the radio.

There are several students who do general office work in the Deans' offices.

As a relief from the many duties performed, the members have an occasional social affair.

Student Council

The Student Council, the governing body of Bowen, has full charge of the Freshmen Guides, Hall Guards, and P. T. A. Ushers.

The council consists of one representative elected from each division room. Dorothy Beebe, chief of the Hall Guards, Camille Taschner the chief of the Freshman Guides, and Margaret Noble and Arnold Nelson who organized this body this semester are also included. The Student Council is now going to re-organize only once a year and the officers are going to hold office for two semesters. Margaret Noble, the President, resigned because she had too many other duties.

The new officers are:

Norma Bailey .....	President
Alice Lacke .....	Vice-President
Charles Loomis .....	Secretary
John Borroff .....	Treasurer

The Vigilantes

The Vigilantes, Bowen's newest Civic organization is composed of a group of boys who have shown interest in all school affairs.

In spite of its tender age in Bowen's history, the Vigilantes Club has made quite a name for itself. The Club has originated the Publicity Bureau, which has given Bowen its share in the "press limelight." A freshman assembly was also presented by the club in a more unique and different style than other assemblies are given. The boys render their services at all functions given in the assembly to keep the halls clear from any disturbances.

The boys also assist Mr. Gelling, the Club sponsor, in any miscellaneous matter which he may see fit to assign to them.

The officers and members for the past semester are

Travel Club

The Travel Club makes excursions to places of interest such as: Ford Plant, Tribune Building, Telephone Exchange, Bosch Wall Paper Factory, Chicago Lighting Institute, Art Institute, Pullman Company, New World's Fair Buildings, Hydrox Ice Cream Company, Tivoli Theater back stage.

At various times stage productions have been presented by the club and all resulted successfully. The club has invited speakers to give illustrated lectures on topics of geographical and industrial interest, and at such times when these speakers were able to present their topics, a large attendance was always in evidence.

Mr. Wilhelms is sponsor of this huge organization.

Bowen Band

Bowen's R. O. T. C. Band, at the present time, consists of fifty members, an increase of four times the original number four years ago. Since their organization under the direction of Captain John Q. Steinbach, the band has accomplished many great feats. In June, 1928, they took second place in the annual band competition at Soldiers' Field, and took second place the following spring in another contest held at Stagg Field. Last April they gave their first semi-annual concert in the auditorium, which, by the way, was well attended. Their second concert was held Thursday night, January 22 of this year, at which the new uniforms were formally introduced, and letters given to veteran Band members.

The Band received their new uniforms of purple and gold just before their last appearance, after a stupendous drive by the P. T. A. which had begun the previous year. Caps, belt cords, insignia, and capes are still lacking, however.

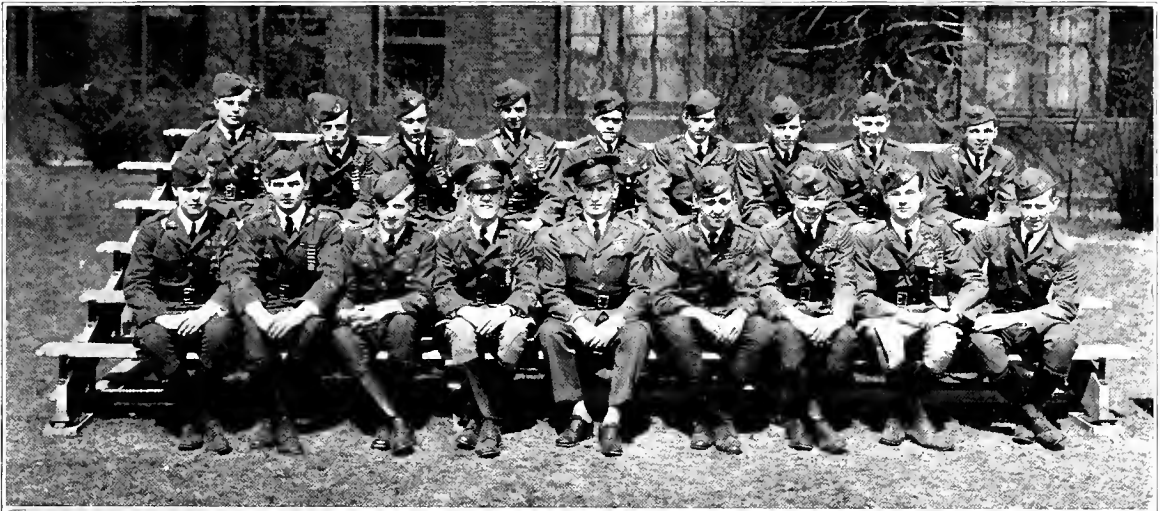

Since the Band has received its new uniforms, they have played for many institutions and large organizations. The Home for Incurables, The Clean-Up Campaign, Kiwanis Club, a preliminary concert, Chicago Jubilee, and several others were among those entertained. The Band also took part in the annual Band competition at Stagg Field and made a very fine impression upon listeners as well as judging critics.

The Band letters previously mentioned were presented to thirteen of the Band members, several of whom are now alumni. The letter is a "B" with a lyre in the center denoting music. Those who received letters were: Albin Zabka, Arnold Johnson, Paul Johnson, Gordon Johnson, Lyle Tronjo, Delbert Bueschel, James Edmunds, Harold Broberg, David Crago, George Lorimer, Harry Beckwith, Walter Carlstedt, and Bill Urbanek.

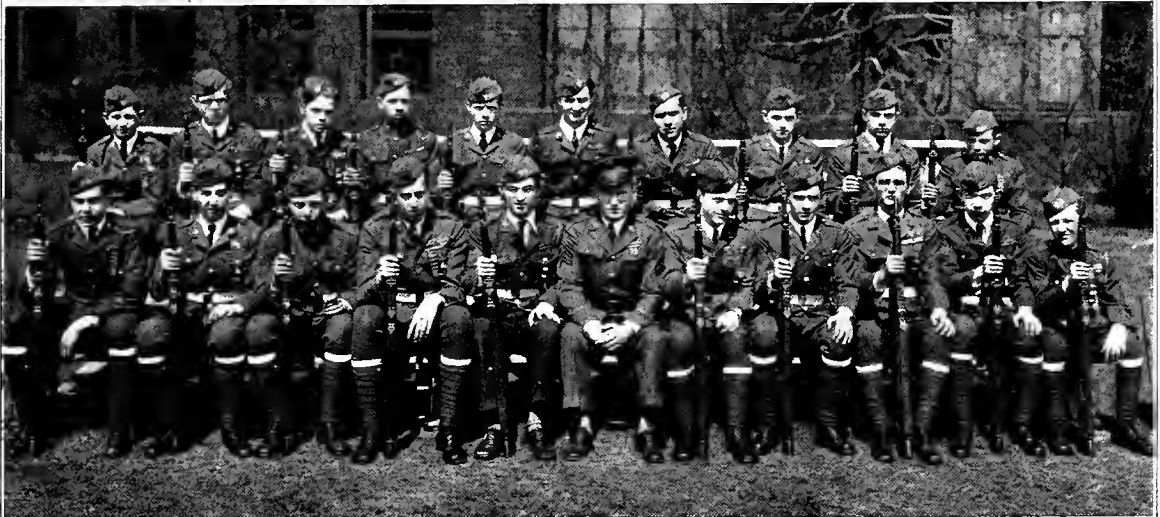

Letters were also presented to Band members at the concert which was given shortly following the Stagg meet.

The commissioned officers in the Band this semester are Cadet Captain George Lorimer; Cadet 1st Lieutenant Walter Carlstedt, who is also drum major; Cadet 2nd Lieutenant John Rowell; Cadet 2nd Lieutenant Herbert Weidman; and Cadet 2nd Lieutenant George Halloran.

The Band is increasing in number each year, and incidentally is participating in more events. These musicians have made wonderful progress since thirteen boys met once a week in a small room in the park four years ago. The present band of over fifty members meets every day in its own portable, receiving full credit each semester, and participating in all events as a full-fledged school organization.

The Bowen R. O. T. C.

The R. O. T. C. unit, commanded by an able staff of cadet officers, has just completed the most successful year in its history. The Unit is organized as a company under the command of Captain Carl Julstrom with Lieutenant Barton Hufton as his adjutant.

The R. O. T. C., participating in the Squad, Section, Platoon, and Company competitions has made a most remarkable showing. This is directly due to the fact that most of the cadet officers have co-operated to the fullest extent with the instructor, Sergeant J. V. Ackerman, in the intensive campaign of instruction which he initiated at the beginning of this past semester. Each cadet officer is given a special department in which he must instruct the cadets. In this way the cadets receive more specialized training, and as a result Bowen's R. O. T. C. stands among the highest in the city. Special attention has been paid to extended order drill and rifle marksmanship, which heretofore have not been required. Due to this thorough intensive training one of the cadet officers, Edwin Sawyer, has been appointed to the position of cadet Major on the Brigade Staff.

The other officers are: Captains, C. Julstrom, R. Chorley, C. Gentry, and G. Lorimer. First Lieutenants, B. Hufton, W. Carlstedt, C. Bledsoe, L. Jessen: Second Lieutenants, C. Olson, Kolar, Leichner, Fetto, Wiedman, Dressler, Rowell, Halloran, Eberle.

The Grease Painters' Club

The Dramatics class was reorganized, upon the return of Mr. O'Keeffe to Bowen last semester, as the Grease Painters' club. The new club immediately made Bowen dramatic history by producing the now famous "Royal Family." Because of the fine manner in which this play was directed and acted, the director and two students were awarded scholarships in a nationwide contest. These scholarships were for the summer session in the school of speech at Northwestern University.

During the semester the new plan of try-outs for membership in the dramatics class for seniors who had no opportunity to take public speaking was announced. The requirement that juniors and sophomores must complete public speaking with marked success before entering the dramatic class was also declared at this time.

At the regular post-season party given for all the members of the dramatics class two new plans were made public for the first time. The first plan was that each actor who had completed the season with success in the opinion of the director should be awarded a Certificate of Dramatic Art, signed by the coach and the principal. The first fifteen engraved certificates ever to be given were then awarded. Following this came the announcement of the establishment and first bestowal of the Frank W. Stahl Award for Dramatic Art, to be given every semester for the actor showing greatest ability, effort and achievement.

Numerous appearances before school clubs, local church and civic organizations, prominent participation in Bowen's Open House Night, and finally the notable presentation of "The Queen's Husband," marked the close of the Grease Painters' second successful season.

Speakers' Club

The Speakers' Club was organized early this semester by the students of Mr. O'Keeffe's Public Speaking class since the class, as a whole, felt that through the medium of a club the class would be better able to accomplish work that would not fit in the school curriculum.

During the past semester, members of the organization have many times appeared before members of the student body and interested them in the many projects of the school. Among the undertakings which they have advertised through division room speeches were the cleanup campaign, and the Go-Getter membership drive.

Several members also entered the Bowen oratorical contest and committed themselves worthily. The P. T. A. benefit movie was also advertised over the Bowen radio system by members of the club. These are only a few of the club's accomplishments and they feel that they have satisfactorily completed the semester's work. The Speakers' Club is sponsored by Mr. A. A. O'Keeffe, Bowen's dramatic instructor. The officers are:

The Fine Arts Club

The Fine Arts Club was organized eight years ago for the purpose of stimulating interest in music, literature, dramatics, sculpture, and painting.

The Club has enjoyed a very successful year, for in addition to its monthly meetings, the organization has taken trips to the Art Institute, the studios of Lorado Taft and Frederick Hibbard, and to the National Broadcasting Studio in the Merchandise Mart.

The Bowen Forum is composed of the senior civics classes. Besides studying the regular civics course, every Friday is given over to the study of current events. Discussions, floor talks and debates on current topics furnish the material for club meetings. Occasionally through the efforts of some member of the classes, speakers are secured to address the club on topics of civic interest.

This semester Dr. Reese, ex-president of Lombard College, spoke on the political situation in India. Alderman William Rowan of the Tenth Ward explained our system of city government and the Calumet Harbor project.

Tennis Team

Prospects for another good tennis team at Bowen are very bright this season. One veteran will be back this year, but an exceptionally large turnout is at work on the courts and among the new aspirants are some men of much ability.

Arnold Raffel is the only veteran returning from last year, but thus far, while still in the try-out stage, Harry Cohen, Kermit Weinberger, Max Zenka, and Leonard Larsen have shown abundant class with the racquets. Jack Harelson, a regular from last year did not report to the team this year.

A very successful season was had by Bowen netmen last year. The team won 6 of their 8 matches, thereby getting second place in the south section. Bowen won 2 matches from Parker High, 1 match from Fenger, 2 matches from Morgan Park, and one match from Calumet.

The team did much better than expected. Handicapped by the loss of three veterans they have won up-to-date five out of their last six games. Raffel, captain, showed great improvement and Cohen, Weinberger and Wasniak the other regulars have shown great form and good tennis. Therefore Bowen can look forward to a prosperous tennis season.

Swimming Team

This year, for the first time in history, the swimming teams of the south side have been organized into a league. This section is composed of Fenger, Tilden, Calumet, Hyde Park, Lindblom, Morgan Park, and Bowen.

As swimming in Bowen is very young, the teams have not fared so well, but so far this year Bowen has defeated Lindblom and Morgan Park while losing to Tilden and Fenger.

Rae MacDonald was captain of the senior team and was one of the mainstays. Rae swam the 220 and backstroke. Jack Young turned out to be a sophomore "find." He is a consistent point getter in the 40 yard and 100 yard events.

Stanley Bell's loss will be keenly felt when he graduates because of the large number of firsts he turned in, in the breast stroke.

Other members of the senior team are George Schaeffer, diver, Jack Watte, Joe Leonas, Dick Shire, and Telloch.

The junior team is captained by little Joe Unwin, who is the greatest point getter on the squad. Other members are Kahn and Bendal. These lads hold down the crawl events. Bergslein and Heritage are the breast strokers and back strokers.

Heavyweight Football

With sixty men reporting for football, at the start of the season in September, Coach Twomey, with the assistance of Coach Wantuck, whipped together a band of "gridders" that fought its way to four impressive victories, two ties, and five losses.

Inexperience taking its toll in the opening game let Washington High of East Chicago triumph over our boys to the tune of 13 to 0.

The following week the small "Boilermaker" outfit pulled the biggest upset in high school football when it traveled to Rockford and beat the powerful "Big Seven" Champions 6 to 0. This game was nip and tuck until the last minute to play when "Gil" Nichols, the fleet footed half back, intercepted a pass and raced sixty yards for the purple score and victory.

The next notable deed accomplished by the Bowen lads was to hold the big experienced Burlington, Iowa preps to a scoreless tie. This was indeed an accomplishment and with the necessary confidence the boys one week later traveled to Joliet, Illinois, where they defeated a crack team of that city 26 to 0.

The boys were fighting and playing great football, but nothing in their power could stop the next two opponents and thus Bowen lost its first two league games to Lindblom and Englewood.

The Boilermakers took a new lease on life after these two losses and then held Tilden Tech. to a scoreless tie and defeated our ancient rivals, Hyde Park 7 to 0, one week later. This last league victory was made possible by "Red" Chartier's touchdown and Captain Radke's kick after it.

Bowen, on Thanksgiving Day, went to Bay City, Michigan, and there lost a tough battle in snow and ice by the score of 6 to 0.

The last game on deck for the "gridders" was the annual alumni game. The Alumni was composed of college stars and many all-city men who have performed for Bowen in years gone by, but the Bowen fight, which was instilled by our energetic coaches and loyal rooters, won over the Alumni experience and in the late minutes of the game Captain "Chuck" Radke place kicked through for points and thus Bowen ended another successful football season with a 3 to 0 victory over their graduated brothers.

This year's team was composed of the following regulars: Finkler, Fisher, Naismith, Wilson, Fink, Polfus, Stamos, Hawley, Stieber, Whitney, Chartier, Spiedel, Nichols, and Captain Radke.

The men returning next season are: Fisher, Wilson, Spiedel, and Chartier.

Lightweight Football

The lightweight football team, under the coaching of Florus Black had a most successful season in 1930.

The team, although having been organized rather late in the season, managed to complete a schedule of seven games. The lightweights made their initial appearance on the football field at Joliet. Although many were playing their first game the team as a whole played like veterans, and triumphed, 14 to 0. Shipway led the scoring with two touchdowns.

The lights then played Englewood's "B" team at Grand Crossing Park and won 7 to 0, Bowen's touchdown being scored in the last quarter by Shipway on a pass from King. The little Boilermakers then traveled to St. Leo high school and downed the Irish 19 to 6. St. Leo made its only touchdown on an intercepted pass. The Tilden Reserves' game was the Boilermakers' first and last home tilt and was played at Bessemer Park. The lights were in the best form of the season and showed off for the home folks by trouncing the Reserves by a score of 24 to 6. Tilden's touchdown was made on a long pass. After the Tilden affair the lights again took to the road, traveling this time to Aurora. Their winning streak had become a habit and after a hard fought contest the Purple and Gold downed the "B" team of Aurora, 14 to 0. Playing Mt. Carmel fast squad in mud nearly a foot deep, the lights were slowed down, but won 6 to 0. The final game of the year was at Morgan Park Military Academy. Playing one of the strongest lightweight teams in the city, the swift little Boilermakers fought a hard contest and won by a score of 6 to 0. The victory ended the season. Seven victories, no defeats, and no ties marked them the unofficial city champions in their class. Skowronski, King, Riley, Shipway, Dreyfus, Robinson, Johnson, Sloan, Hight, and Snyder, all lightweights, should be good men for the heavy squad in the 1931 season.

Florus Black took over the job of coaching the lightweights. He performed his duties like a veteran and under his general leadership, his pony team was never in great danger of loss. Other members of the team were Thompson, Blair, Beggs, Copilillo, J. McGowen, M. White, and Ericson.

Heavyweight Basketball

The 1930-31 season was a great success for the Boilermaker quintet. The team played a long hard schedule of 39 games and ended with the remarkable record of 34 wins and 5 losses. Bowen met and defeated in both the lightweight and heavyweight divisions all the teams of the South and Central Section, which comprise all the teams of the South Side.

The team entered three tournaments not including the city league. The first tournament was the Northern Illinois State Teachers' College Tourney at De Kalb, Illinois. Bowen won their first three games handily but lost a tough battle in the last minute, and with it the championship, to Dundee, Illinois, 24 to 22.

The squad returned home in time to enter the U. of C. tournament which was classed as the first semester unofficial state tournament. Here the Boilermaker quintet played great ball but in the opening game Bill Haarlow, the team's leading scorer, was injured and sat on the bench during the remainder of the tournament. At the U. of C., the team went to the finals and met Lindblom for the championship. Lindblom had previously been defeated by Bowen 44 to 20, but with Haarlow on the bench, and a few bad breaks, the Lindblomers slipped over a win. Bowen received a life-sized silver basketball for the runner-up position. During the between semester's vacation, Bowen, for the first time in its history, defeated Culver, St. John's, and Northwestern Military Academies.

The third tournament the team entered was the state tourney at Joliet. Here Bowen met Crane in the opening game and lost. Then Crane won the district championship. (Bowen had beaten Crane in the U. of C. Tournament.) This game at Joliet was a nip and tuck battle. Orr made three fouls in the first two minutes and Fortino was ejected from the game in the first half and Bowen's chances suffered. Crane won in the last minutes by the small score of 33 to 31. Bowen made 13 baskets and 5 of 14 free throws. Crane made 12 baskets and 9 of 11 free throws. Thus ended tourney play for this season. The team not only limited itself to good play in tournaments but won the South Side title by winning seven games and dropping one overtime contest by one point.

The team went into the semi-finals and in the first game at White City the Boilermakers took revenge for Lindblom defeat at the U. of C. and trounced them 36 to 12. Calumet was defeated 47 to 14. The next semi-final game was called the non-official championship game of the city by many coaches and players. This game was between Bowen and the defending city champions, Wendell Phillips.

Bowen had defeated Phillips in an earlier game 31 to 14. Playing before a capacity crowd at White City, a game was played that all who saw will remember for a long time but the semi-final jinx was still with the boys and Phillips won out in the last few minutes, thereby ending Bowen's basketball season. Bowen won 34 games and lost 5. Despite these losses mentioned, the 1930-31 season was the greatest years in Bowen's basketball history. Bowen made 10 baskets and 3 of 9 free throws. Phillips make 9 baskets and 9 of 11 free throws.

The captain was "Buns" Basile, the manager was Palmer Gevirtz, the assistant manager was Laurence Larsen, and the outfit was guided under the ever watchful eye of Coach Clarence Applegran. The team was made up of the following men: Haarlow, Celmer, Orr, Basile, Rudnicki, Fortino, Moore, Dugal, and Sandell. Haarlow, Orr, and Fortino return next year. The substitutes were: Garner, Survillo, Cremens, Harrison, Dudek, West, and Wolfe.

These are the squad's accomplishments:
South Section Champions.

Bill Haarlow—All-city forward.

Joe Celmer—All-city 2nd team forward.

Palmer Gevirtz—All-city manager.

Bill Haarlow—High point man of city league.

Baseball

One of the most successful baseball seasons Bowen has had in years was turned in in 1930. The Boilermaker nine played 25 practice games and maintained the sensational record of 24 wins. They continued their victorious habits when the city league opened by sweeping through the entire south section without a defeat. In doing this they defeated each of the following schools twice: Parker, Calumet, Fenger, and Morgan Park. The infield, which was exceptionally strong was composed of Bill Haarlow, 1st base; George Bell, 2nd base; Carl Swanson, short stop; and Captain Bob Metz, on 3rd base.

The out fielding was done by a variety of men: among them was Earl Orr, Bud Schohl, Chuck Radke, Phil Panson, Harry Groth, and Palmer Gevirtz.

The pitching was mostly done by Fred Loudon who amassed 23 wins. The catching department was handled by Bob Spiedel during the practice season. For the league, Schohl went behind the bat and caught all the league games and was rated with the best of the city league.

The baseball team, like all other Bowen teams, entered the semi-finals a favorite and beat Harrison Tech and Calumet in the first two semi-final games, and it looked for a time as though the "Bowen Jinx" had been gotten rid of, but the Marshall game proved to be the stumbling block. Bowen led all through the game, but a Marshall rally in the late innings did the damage and Bowen lost 6 to 5.

Thus endeth the 1930 season, but this year is a new season and with plenty of men from last year's team returning Coach Applegram has molded another slugging combination. Six veterans of last year's team, Captain Schohl, Spiedel, Rudnicki, Orr, Shipway and Haarlow answered the first call. Among the forty men such fine players as Kral, Radlowski, Fisher, Lucas, Galovitch, Morrison, Erickson and McGowen filled the gaps left by Metz, Radke and Loudon. The batteries are made up of Haarlow and Orr, pitchers, Spiedel and Galovitch catchers. The team looks forward to a successful outcome of the coming semi-final games. This year's team is managed by Chuck Gibson.

Lightweight Basketball

To make the basketball season a double success, the lightweights, who were led by Bob Yarndley until February and from then on by Bud Schohl, reached the semi-finals, and tied for the section championship with Parker. Won 7, lost 1.

The lights played 23 games and won 18 of them. During the season they defeated every team in the South and Central sections. Up to the semi-finals, the lights had won 18 out of 20 games but old man jinx, and a little erratic playing, took three in a row and thus ended the light's chances for further honors. The losses in the semis were to Englewood, Phillips, and Parker.

The team was made up of Bob Yarndley, "Bud" Schohl, Joe Weinberg, "Sol" Gordon, Irvin Greiman, George Richards, and "Midge" Radlowski. All of these were regulars and received major letters. Palmer Gevirtz was manager and L. Larsen and R. Hulett were assistants.

At the basketball banquet "Sol" Gordon was elected captain. Joe Weinberg also returns next year, but undoubtedly will be a heavyweight.

The "light's" record was:

Games Played .....	23
Games Won .....	18
Games Lost .....	5
Bowen's Total Points .....	691
Opponent's Total Points .....	430

Gymnastic Team

This is a newly organized team in Bowen. Other high schools, such as Lindblom, have had gymnastic teams for years. The school has taken a great interest in this sport and it has become one of the popular sports.

With a few men back from last year and many new men this year, the gymnastic team was very well organized. The team is coached by Mr. Roy, who has succeeded in making a wonderful team. Although the team was much improved this year, they were unable to place in the city meet, which was held on May 16 at Calumet High School.

Lindblom's novice team has taken championship for seven consecutive years, and their senior team has taken championship for six straight years. In the novice group, Calumet took second and Lake View captured third. Tilden, Roosevelt, Bowen, Lane, Senn, Austin, and Harrison also competed and finished in the order named.

Joseph Ramirez and Captain Leonas, both men from last year's team, took first and second of Bowen's team. Alex Siegel, a new gymnast, has done wonderful work by taking third. Five of the Bowen boys made seventy-five or more points and these will compete in the senior group next year. They are Ramirez, Leonas, Siegel, Keel, and Chimoures. The rest of the team is composed of Diehl, Strader, Bendell, Deloor, Andjelich, Olszak, and Jensen.

Track Team

Bowen's track team has had a fairly successful season due to the coaching ability of coaches Twomey and McNabb and hard training.

In the century we have Stieber, Whitney, and King. Stieber runs a good race and is a dependable point getter in that race. "Stebe" however specializes in the broad jump and is called the aerial man on account of his unusual distant leaps. Whitney is exceptionally fast and shows a marked improvement over last year. Although Paul is a good century man, his race is the 440 yard dash. King, the able veteran of four years, has exceptionally fine form and unusual speed. He also runs a fast century, but his race is the 220.

Lightfoot, vaulter, has attained the height of eleven feet. However, due to the fact that "Sid" turned his ankle just before the city meet he was unable to qualify. Borroff, Bowen's high jumper and half miler, is our high point man. In the last two city meets he placed in both events and ranks high with the city's track stars. Andrews, a leading sprint man was one of the outstanding sprint stars of the season. However, due to ineligibility he was only able to compete the first part of the season. Saunder, Zenka, and Puzick are the leading distance men and reliable as point getters.

Bowen's reputed relay team consists of (in order) Whitney, Lightfoot, Stieber, and King.

The junior team is centered around Shapiro and Morris. Shapiro is the juniors' highest man, running the 50 and 120 yard dash. The Junior Relay Team consists of Shapiro, Morris, Shipway and Hollet.

The managers of Bowen's Track team are Seward and O'Rear. It is due to their efforts that we have had the following meets:

- I. University High 1
Bowen 2
Austin 3
- II. Bankers Relay
Relay team placed 5th out of 40 entries.
- III. Bowen (1) ; Hyde Park (2) ; Fenger (3).
- IV. Illinois State meet.
City Outdoor meet.

As a result of the team's excellent showing in recent meets with Fenger and Calumet, Bowen's chances of placing in the City Outdoor Meet appear very bright. Against Fenger we lost by a few points because of the absence of our outstanding stars at the State Meet. Against Calumet we placed first in every event except the half mile.

Golf Team

This year's golf team has a good chance to repeat their last year's wins. Material from last year's team consists of Captain William Swank, Jack Harelson, and Bill Haarlow. Either Steve Lucas or Frank Stormer will be the fourth man to make up the present team.

Last year the team consisting of Larry Primrose, Jack Harelson, Roy James, Jack Roe, Bill Swank, and Bill Haarlow won the south-section title, but lost to Hyde Park in the semi-finals.

In the first match last year with Morgan Park, Primrose won all three points, Harelson won three points, James won three points and Bill Swank won one, lost one, and tied one.—Score ended Bowen, 10; Morgan Park, 1.

In the second match with Calumet, Bowen won by an overwhelming majority. Primrose, Harelson, and Roe each won three points while James was winning two and tying one.—Score ended, Bowen, 11; Calumet, 0.

In the final match with Fenger, Bowen lost but this defeat was not enough to keep the "Boilermakers" from winning the sectional championship because of their first two victories.

The present team keenly feels the loss of Jack Roe, Roy James, and Larry Primrose who have all graduated.

Last year's golf team sent Haarlow and Harelson to Champaign as Bowen representatives in the state meet, but the boys failed to qualify by a few strokes.

Prospects are looming at Bowen this year for a good team and "Boilermaker" golf hopes are high for a city title.

Fencing

Fencing, which was organized in the fall of 1929, has been received with popular approval from the students.

The foilsmen entered the city meet last May and the score of 124 points, which was much more than was expected, gave the boys something to think about until the next city meet. The lineup was as follows: Sid Kauffman, Sam Naismith, Edward Hayeski, and Clinton Folkrod.

In city meets the four fencers from each school are placed in four different classes according to their ability, so that each fences a man of his own experience.

The duelists are under the tutelage of Coach Bruno Kluge.

BOWEN LETTERMEN

The Bowen Letter Girls

The Bowen Letter Girls have not so large a club as that of the boys, but nevertheless they have held a number of interesting programs. They have entertained letter girls from other high schools, and have also held two successful doughnut sales, which, needless to say, resulted profitably. They also plan to have many long hikes sometime this summer.

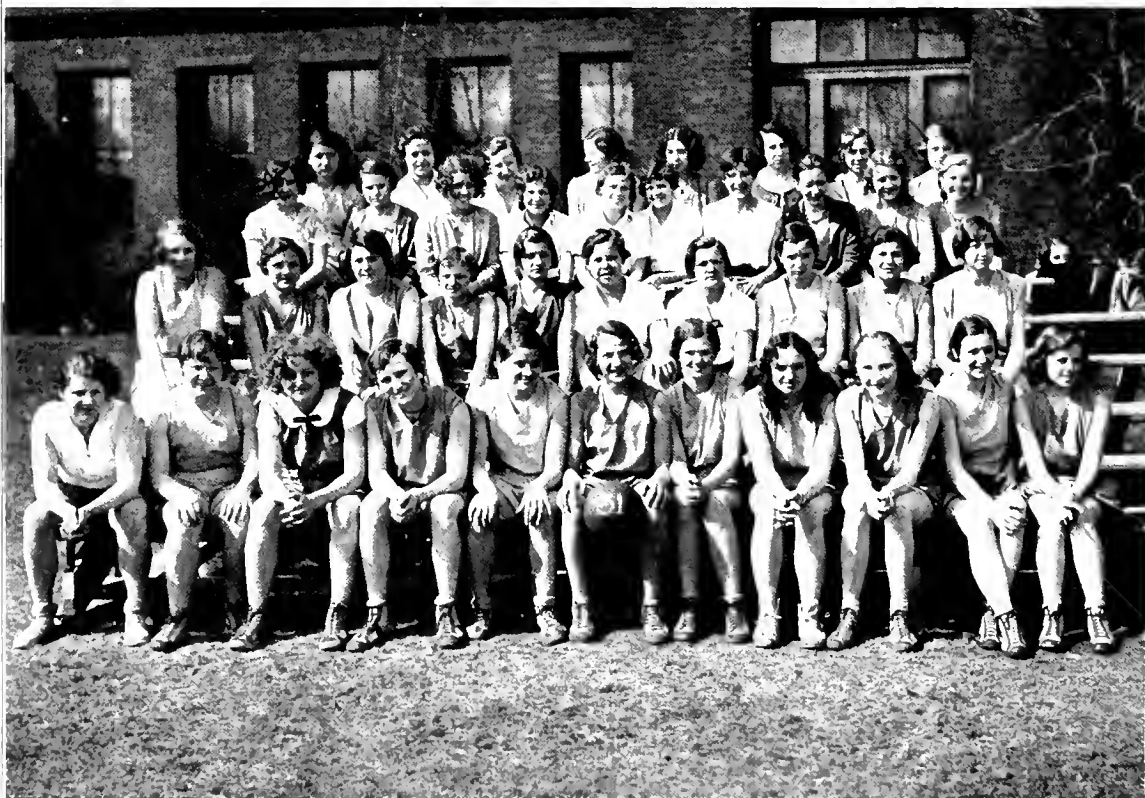

The officers of the club are:

The Builders

by

HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW

All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rime.

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise,
Time is with materials filled;
Our to-days and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Truly shape and fashion these;
Leave no yawning gaps between;
Think not, because no man sees,
Such things will remain unseen.

In the elder days of Art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the Gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen;
Make the house, where Gods may dwell,
Beautiful, entire, and clean.

Else our lives are incomplete,
Standing in these walls of Time,
Broken stairways where the feet
Stumble as they seek to climb.

Build today, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place.

Thus alone can we attain
To those turrets, where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain,
And one boundless reach of sky.

American Pioneers

Pioneers of America! Men exploring for the first time land that no white man had ever viewed. Their only companions were their two pack-mules and horses. Their trip was a lonely one through dangerous country; their experiences were ones which had never been experienced by past generations. Long rides through forests, at every turn expecting death. Tedious times when they nearly starved from the lack of wild buffalo meat. What wild tales they would be able to tell the authorities at Washington, the capitol of the infant nation. Theirs was the blood of adventurers, the blood that flowed through the veins of the men who fought at Bunker Hill, their ancestors who had died that liberty might exist in this country that was made "of the people, by the people, and for the people."

The only thought in their minds at the time of their great adventure was that it was their duty to carry on for future generations. Fight, starve, and if necessary—die, that the sons who followed them would be proud of the fathers who so unselfishly perished. The glow of patriotism was burning in their veins. The love for their father country was seething so hotly they could not control it, and needs must carry on. "Carry on!" was the motto of the first pioneers. Forward, always forward. Deep into black forests, black nights, and cloudy days and hopes they trudged. Ambitions and ideals were almost crushed beneath the responsibility that weighed upon their hearts. Theirs was the power to succeed or fail; to show that this nation could live or die. They could not give in! Their ancestors had fought without a thought of their own welfare that America might be born, and it was their duty to fulfill the expectations of those at home that America might grow, that America might expand, that America, to use the words of that great Emancipator, "shall not perish from this earth." Time forbade them from hearing Lincoln's words, but his thought must have been running through their minds as they thought of men in the past who had fought in the Revolution. . . . "It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us: that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain."

Patriotism—love of country—the one reason that those men, to the best of their ability, made new paths into the West for posterity. They not only opened land for others, but behind this deed was something greater; they helped, in what may have seemed to them a small way, to rear a nation, foster a new birth, and breathe into a soul the breath of humanity.

The Lone Eagle

Before the time of the Wright brothers, little was thought of man flying in the air with the aid of a flying machine. When these men, with the help of their ingenious inventions made possible this wonderful feat, they were laughed at and scorned. They did not heed this foolish display mankind made and went their own way, progressing in their attempt. Years later they, and several other inventors who had adopted their idea, put on the market and in the hands of the United States Government, a flying machine. Youth began to take this new invention into their hearts, and learned to master it, as far as man is able to master a machine. Among these learned young aviators was one, Charles A. Lindbergh. He loved flying, loved the feeling of soaring into space and looking down at this small world.

No one had ever heard of this young man. He was only an unknown mail aviator, flying his machine across the continent. He knew he could do something with this machine besides just carrying the mail, although that was a worthy occupation. One morning in the newspapers, it said that this fellow was going to make a trans-Atlantic flight. People laughed at him as they had laughed at the Wright brothers, but he didn't give them a thought. He knew what he was doing. Perhaps this idea of his had never been carried out. He didn't care; there was always a first time for everything. Flying was his trade, his means of livelihood; but the love of it burned in him with a fine passion, and he decided he must do something to further the advance of aeronautics.

Great plans were made in order to perfect this machine, but finally everything seemed to be in proper condition for this undertaking. The ship was placed at the extreme west end of the field heading along the east and west runway, and the final fueling commenced. About 7:40 A. M. the motor was started and at 7:52 the "Spirit of St. Louis" and its young pilot took off on its flight for Paris. He flew north by east over Newfoundland so that there would be no doubt that he had passed there in case he was forced down in the North Atlantic. The trip was a lonely one, and only at a few intervals did he see any signs of life. He was alone, in mid-ocean, but with the good wishes of his own country and the entire world carrying him on to success. His first sight of land was the coast of Ireland, about ten or fifteen miles away. In a little over two hours the coast of England appeared. The peaceful English farm lands must have seemed a blessing to him—a relief after endless miles of water. He crossed the Channel and passed over Cherbourg, France—his goal, attained at last. France, the harbor for the "Lone Eagle" and his carrier.

The following is a quotation from Myron T. Herrick, Ambassador to France. "The way Lindbergh bore himself after getting here was but a continuation of his flight. He started with no purpose but to arrive; he remained with no desire but to serve, he sought nothing, he was offered all. No flaws marked any act or word, and he stood forth amidst the clamor and the crowds the very embodiment of a fearless, kindly, cultivated American youth—unspoiled, unspoilable. The whole world hails Charles Lindbergh, not only as a brave aviator, but as an example of American idealism, character and conduct."

(Including Excerpts from the Bowen Arrow
September, 1927—April, 1931)

All fools are not dead yet, nope.
Here's proof if you will heed it.
I'm alive to write this dope
And you're alive to read it.

Love's Old Sweet Song: When do we eat?

Sara Werner: It's raining! And the Times said it positively would not rain!

Marge Rockwell: Oh well! Then that can't be rain!

Then there was a warden's wife who embroidered a slip-cover for the electric chair.

Mrs. Lindahl—I thought I told you to get a hen.
Bob—You did! But I didn't have the heart!
It's Mother's Day!

Arline Wicker bought herself some glasses to wear in bed so she can recognize the people she dreams about.

People that aren't any good on earth should take up aviation.

DOGGONE

Where's your dog?"

"Mastiff"

"No, no, not what kind, but where?"

"Well, I was gonna say he mastiff gone home."
(Withhold your fire men).

Thunderous Roar From Grandstand: "We want a touchdown!"

Sara Campbell (In a small voice): "I want a sack of peanuts."

AUSTRALIAN IDYLL

Cried the baby kangaroo
On a rainy, windy day:
"Gee, ma! I wish that you
Had been born a cabrolet!"

Jim: Talk about rating! Sally just let me have ten bucks.

Slim: That's nothing. I've got a married woman sending me through school.

Jim: Who is it?

Slim: My mother.

Warden: We let prisoners work at their own trades here, the same as outside: blacksmith, carpenter, or whatever it may be. What is your trade?

Prisoner: I'm a traveling salesman.

EQUALS

No matter what we are and who,
Some duties everyone must do;
A poet puts aside his wreath
To wash his face and brush his teeth,
And even Earls must comb their curls,
And even Kings have underthings.

"Will you join our party in the jam preserves?"
Asked the first fly.

"No," said the second fly, "the lady of our house has baked a cake with icing on it. We're going in for winter sports."

Kit: Oh, I've been lucky at bridge, but the horses are terrible.

Kat: No wonder! You can't shuffle the horses!

Grocer: "You want a pound of ochre? Is it red ochre for painting bricks?"

William Dewar: "No, it's tappy ochre."

Policeman—"How did you come to get that jar of honey?"

Bud Schohl—"Well, I admit I didn't keep any bees; but what's to stop a fellow from squeezing it out of the flowers himself?"

Wife (after talking thirty minutes): "Don't sit there staring at me. Why don't you say something?"

Husband: "Sorry, dear, I didn't know it was my turn."

That indefinable thing we call charm is what enables a girl to violate the traffic rules day after day with absolute impunity.

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Back when a man could go to a bathing beach and find a good looking young woman who didn't know how to swim?

Her hat was on one side, her clothes rumpled and her shoes were in shreds.

"Were you knocked down by a motorist?" asked a sympathetic bystander.

"No, picked up," she snapped.

Mother—Now do you know where bad little girls go?

Daughter—Yes, they go most everywhere.

Clarice—Don't you think that George dresses nattily?

Maurice—Natalie who?

If Lee was a Confederate, why did he wear a Union suit?

IF LONGFELLOW HAD PLAYED GOLF

I drove a golf ball into the air
It fell to earth I know not where;
For right through the sun it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I teed another with many a swear
And drove that to I know not where;
I slice and cut and twice I muff
And off it careens right into the rough.

Long, long, afterward, tired and sore
I forgave all that went before.
With a heavy heart I approached the green
And there it rested—quite serene.

The ball I thought I'd lost in the sun
Was in the cup—a hole in one.
And the oaths I'd sworn from beginning to end
I heard again from the mouth of my friend.

Careful?—Why he uses Listerine before answering the telephone.

They had only been married a month, and he had left her for a few minutes while she prepared a salad in the kitchen.

Suddenly a piercing scream rang out, and he rushed to the kitchen, prepared to face he knew not what.

"Whatever is the matter, darling? He panted.

"It's a—a caterpillar!" she said, with an effort.
"Oh, Herbert, what if I had been in the house alone?"

Have you heard about the man who hopes to produce unbreakable eggs, by crossing egg plants with rubber trees?—Wonder what he could do about a neckless turkey, so father could have some white meat?

"Please may I sit on your right hand"?
Said he to Florence Fair.

"I'll have to eat with that" she said—
"You'd better take a chair."

Brainless Betty wonders if it is possible to die in a living room.

Garage Attendant (as auto drives up): Juice?
Motorist: Vell, vat if ve are?

Soph: I'll bet you felt badly about the way your car got smashed up in the collision.

Frosh: Yes, it doesn't look a bit worse than it did before.

Frosh: He is all the world to me. What would you advise me to do?

Senior: See a little more of the world, my dear.

Farmer's Wife (to druggist): "Now, be sure and write plain on them bottles which is for the horse and which is for my husband. I don't want nothin' to happen to that horse before the spring plowin'."

A MAN'S MAN

Jones: "Describe your sister's new baby."

Bachelor Brown: "Small features, red faced, clean shaven, and a hard drinker."

Little Girl (radio fan, disturbed at her prayers by scratching on the screen door): Please stand by God, while I let the cat out."

WHAT THEY WANT

Rudy Vallee—Fifty thousand more women to sigh over him.

Theodore Dreiser—Fifty thousand more women to cry over him.

Floyd Gibbons—Fifty thousand more words per minute.

Philadelphia Athletics—Fifty thousand more times to win it.

Notre Dame—Fifty thousand more miles to travel.

Edgar Wallace—Fifty thousand more plots to unravel.

Flo Ziegfeld—Fifty thousand more beauties to glorify.

S. S. Van Dine—Fifty thousand more readers to horrify.

Texas Guinan—Fifty thousand more out-of-town buyers.

Diogenes—ONE honest man in fifty thousand liars.

No matter how you move it, writing paper remains stationery.

Straw berets are now worn in Paris. In London they are eaten with cream.

PSONG OF THE PSYCHOPATH

Psing, O psing for the integrate,
When psalty psexes rote!
Let Freudic dendrites psyncopate
To the euphoristic note.
For never and never shall Thalamus
Inhibit her adrenal;
Psince Otolith has envied us

HE WAS NOT A BOWENITE

When first he went to see her
He showed a timid heart,
And when the lights were low,
They sat this far apart.

But when their hearts grew warmer,
And they learned the joy of a kiss
They knocked out all the spaces,
And sat up close like this!

Joe—"What's the matter with the poor fish playing guard?"

Pete—"Probably he got mixed up with the tackle."

Stage Manager—"All ready, run up the curtain."

Stage Hand—"Say, what do you think I am, a squirrel?"

Daughter—"I bet, Dad, you never saw dancing like this back in your days!"

Dad—"Yes, I did—once; but the place was raided."

Sandy Sandell says the days spent at Bowen would have been much more enjoyable if he hadn't had to wash his neck.

H. Reed is so dumb that he asked a certain officer if the Battle of Brandywine was fought in a bar-room!

Joc—"If a girl had radiolite lips, would you call her a shining light?"

Bill—"No, I'd call her an Ever-Ready."

At the Prom (to toddling couple)—"Leave the floor."

He and She (in unison)—"Certainly; we can't use it at home."

Dick—"Why didn't you answer my letter?"

Virginia—"I didn't receive it."

Dick—"You didn't?"

Virginia—"No, and besides, I didn't like some of the things you said in it."

Mabel—"Well, Pat, you will have to admit that I have a pretty face."

Pat—"A barn looks good when it's painted, too."

Bays—"Healthy place, this, I suppose?"

Cole—"Sure; when I came here I was too weak to walk."

Bays—"Really?"

Cole—"Yes; I was born here."

SAD

I loved
A girl and
She loved me, too—
At least she said
So—
But she said
She would never Marry me until
Her father
Gave his consent.
Well, sir, I
Followed this Girl around
For thirteen
Years
And kept looking
For her old man,
And then I
Found out that her
Old man died when
She was born.
Ain't it embarrassin'?

"Lend me twenty dollars but only give me ten of it. Then as I owe you ten and you owe me ten, we'll call it square."

Little Girl: Auntie, why do you put powder on your face?

Aunt: To make me pretty, dear.

Little Girl: Then why doesn't it?

Then there is the bird who wondered whether the B & O Railroad fired their employees who use Lifebouy Soap.

The last ice age, according to the scientists, was something fierce. And now civilization totters under the ice-cube age!

Driver of Collegiate Car: Do you do repairing here?

Garage Owner: Yeah, but we don't do manufacturing.

A high school graduate is a person who had a chance to get an education.

A woman may be outspoken, but not by a man.

A prisoner threw the magazine across his cell in disgust. "Nothing but continued stories," he muttered, "and I'm going to be hanged the day after tomorrow."

Women are all alike—each one is different.

Why spend money on an electric vibrator when you can get a second hand Ford for half the price.

Teacher: What do you mean by coming to school with your hair in that disgraceful condition?

Johnny: No comb, ma'am.

Teacher: Can't you use your father's comb?

Johnny: No hair, ma'am.

She: College boy?

He: No. Couldn't get in where I wanted to.

She: What did you try for?

He: Vassar.

Teacher: There is a wonderful example in the life of the ant. Every day the ant goes to work and works and works all day; every day the ant is busy, and in the end what happens?

Willie: Someone steps on him.

Stan: When I dance with you I feel as though I were treading on clouds.

Helen: Don't kid yourself; those are my feet.

"Doesn't the sound of water just thrill you?

"Well, I come from Long Island, and there we just live on the sound."

"Is Rudy Vallee really a Connecticut Yankee?"

"Surely you've heard of the Connecticut valleys!"

When found robbing the cash box in a fish store, be nonchalant—smoke a herring.

Some husbands have dens, but most of them growl all over the house.

Joe: Yaas, I graduate this year. I intend at that time to enter settlement work.

Doe: Oh, I see. Jerking bromo seltzers.

Head Coach: How do the football candidates look?

Compet: Well, we have thirty-four who carted ice last summer, twenty-seven who dug ditches, twenty-six who were life-guards, eighteen who were camp counselors and eleven who were prohibition agents.

Head Coach: Keep the last eleven—they won't care how they hit people.

Mom: I got a letter from the high school and it says that our Sally's been stealin'.

Pop: What?

Mom: Says she's takin' home economics.

It takes a mighty little jack to raise a car, but it takes a lot of jack to keep one up.

"With a single stroke of a brush," said the school teacher, taking his class around the National Gallery, "Reynolds could change a smiling face into a frowning face."

"So can my mother," said a small boy near by.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN

The butcher found a homeless dog—

The worthless little bum;

And as he led it home, he said;

"The wurst is yet to come."

Now that they have bought an electric chair for the State of Illinois, Samuel Insull says: "You can do it better with gas!"

OLD INDIAN PROVERB

He who knows not and knows not that he knows not is a fool, shun him.

He who knows not and knows that he knows not is simple, teach him.

He who knows and knows not that he knows, is asleep, wake him.

He who knows and knows that he knows is wise, FOLLOW HIM.

Nell: Do you know scientists have decided that singing is good for certain kinds of deafness?

Stell: No, but I have known for a long time that deafness is good for certain kinds of singing.

Mr. Jinks: You might ask the maid to clean the spots from my coat with a bit of gasoline.

Mrs. Jinks: O, John, I haven't the heart to ask her. Since the chauffer jilted her she can't stand the smell of gasoline.

Si, they tell me you bought the Board of Trade building when you were in Chicago."

"Yeh, and I had to pay only two dollars extra for the pigeons."

Jack Harelson: "I want a pair of corduroy pants."

Clerk: "How long?"

Jack: "How long? I don't want to rent them—I want to buy them."

He: "Whatever induced Dora to take up golf so suddenly?"

She: "Oh, she read a newspaper article about somebody finding a diamond in the rough."

A Chicago gangster died a natural death. That looks like a swell plot for a mystery yarn.

SHE WAS ENLIGHTENED

A sorrowing widow, having a memorial erected in memory of her late husband, had the following inscription carved upon it:

"Good-bye, Henry, my light has gone out."

Three months later when she remarried, some wit added to the inscription:

"But I have struck another match."

At a revival meeting converts were coming forward by the dozens. A Negro came striding down the aisle and dropped to his knees. He was barefooted and two enormous feet stuck up behind him.

In a moment the revivalist started up the aisle, kneeling here and there beside the converts. The near-sighted old man peered earnestly at the Negro, patted him on the shoulder and murmured: "Bless you, brother." Then kneeling behind him and putting a hand on each heel, he said, "And bless these two dear little boys."

The new reporter wanted a chocolate-malted-with-an-egg-and-yeast, but the veteran soda jerker, in charge of the fountain, was busy teaching the rookies how to make the various concoctions in the little silver dishes and eaten with foolish little spoons.

The budding journalist was still perched on his stool and cooling his rubber heels when I entered.

"Been waited on?" I asked.

"No," said he. "I'm waiting for sundae school to end."

The circus strong man rode out on horseback to challenge a farmer whose great strength had gained him a reputation. He entered the farmer's yard, tied up his horse and approached him gruffly.

"Hey," he said. "I've heard a lot about you, and have come a long way to see which is the better man."

Without answering, the farmer seized him, hurled him bodily over the fence into the road.

When the loser had recovered his breath the farmer growled, "Have you anything more to say to me?"

"No," was the reply, "but perhaps you'll be good enough to throw me my horse."

"Ah wants a ticket for Florence," said the old colored mammy at the railway ticket office.

After searching his map for ten minutes, the agent said, "I can't find Florence on the map."

"She ain't on de map," replied the colored mammy scornfully. "She's sittin' right over dere on de bench."

COULDN'T MISS HIM

An Englishman was visiting this country for the first time, and as he was driving along the highway saw a sign, "Drive Slow. This Means YOU!"

The Englishman stopped in surprise and exclaimed: "My word! How did they know I was here!"

He could not have a minor operation because he was over twenty-one.

Caller: Is your mother engaged?

Betty: She's married.

Maid (to young man caller)—I'm sorry, but she said to tell you that she wasn't at home.

Young Man—Well, tell her I'm glad I didn't call.

"And what is your father's profession?

"He is a worm imitator."

"What?"

"He makes worm holes in antique furniture."

RAILROAD POETRY

Something delayed the train, so the conductor wired in:

"Two-twenty-two has busted a flue. What will I do?—Donahue.

This awakened the slumbering muse in the telegraph office, and the reply ran:

"Wait, Two-twenty-eight will take your freight."—I. M. Straight.

Suddenly he crouched, a beast of prey ready to spring. The disheveled hair blew wildly in the wind. With teeth clenched and jaw outthrust belligerently he leaned slowly forward. The knuckles of the hand of one sinewy arm rested on the torn turf.

His muscles tensed and with eyes wildly glaring, his whole aspect became one of deadly menace. With drooling lips, drawn back to expose carnivorous teeth, he grimly muttered, "Now!"

"O. K." said the photographer. "It'll be on the sports page Sunday. Thanks."

"Save me about fifty copies will ya?" asked the football star, and turned back to scrimmage.

AGAIN, THE PROFESSOR

The absent minded professor was walking down the street with one foot on the curbing and the other in the gutter.

Wally Andrews—"How are you, Professor?"

"Well, I thought I was quite well, but for the last fifteen minutes, I've been limping.

THIS ANNUAL ENGRAVED BY JAHN & OLLIER

free wheeling in PRINTING!

SMOOTHER riding over the entire service route . . . uniformly high quality at definite savings . . . the assurance that your printed matter is delivered on the date promised . . . hundred percent satisfaction all along the way.

That's why everyone of our customers is able to "coast" along pleasantly and happily without the worries and disturbances that so often accompany the ordering of printing matter.

No need to step on the brakes when we're on the job—we do the work conscientiously and precisely to order. No need to step on the gas—we're right on time every time.

We do work for a number of large firms; but we have not reached the point where any printing order is too small for us.

Nor is the size of your order the yardstick by which is measured the attention and care it receives. We give one kind of printing service to each and all—and that is the BEST, without qualifications.

While, like everyone else, we do everything possible to get your name on our books—the estimate by which we make you a customer is not specially calculated to that end.

May we give you an estimate on your next occasion?
